The alleged attack occurred in an isolated spot on Fort Sam Houston military reservation last October 22. The crime carries a death penalty. Lieutenant Murrel pled not guilty to the young Alabama woman's charges.

NEW form of lottery based on mperature recordings has made an appearance in San Antonio. Daily newspapers publishing hourly thermometer readings issued by the United States weather bureau are innocent victims in the new game of chance. Here's the way it works:

The temperature is selected for a future specified 4-hour period. Glancing at yesterday's recordings, we find the readings between 1 a.m. and 4 a. m. were as follows, 46, 46. 45, 46. our information is correct. . . had this period been designated the order of ticket No. 6656 wins the capital prize—and a lot of suckers hold the sack.

HE newspaper reading room in vorite hideaways from the city's roaring din. There is a solemn quietude here that is soothing and restful. An unwritten law of strict individuality exists. Rarely does one strike up casual conversation with fellow readers. Smiles and social courtesies are left hebind. To inquire of a neighbor bending over spread pages of the Times-Picayune if here were a visitor from New Orleans would seem sacriligious in this atmosphere. A cough or sneeze draws severe glares of disapproval from the assembly.

It would seem that with the Convention question decided and out of the way, we will now be able to press forward to other and probably more important matters for the help of the people of Mississippi. It is generally stated here that this fight has held up and delayed other important bills and measures which will now come to be considered. The Public Lands Committee under Senator Allen's guidance will report next Wednesday the three bills concerning tax forfeited lands which have commanded so much interest in Mississippi. The first is the measure which I have advocated authorizing the Land Commissioner to sell back to original owners or others the lands now belonging to the state payment of taxes. The next is Senator Kyle's bill which will allow the these important matters.

Opponents claimed that this would be of little help while those who favored the measure a: gued that it was a step in the right direction. Anyway, if the Governor signs it, this measure will become the law and each head of household will be saved the tsate tax on this amount of property. Ultimately this provision, in my opnion, will be extended so as to cover ALL ad valorem taxes and then it will be a life saver to the small land or home owner.

Letters, petitions and communications are coming from teachers, patrons and pupils all over the state calling for an increase in the common school funds and many counties are claiming that their schools will soon be forced to close unless the I favored such increase, but I am frank to say that I do not believe and bake for 30 minutes. this legislature will vote to put on more taxes in order to get this additional money. There will be a further effort made to strike off the sales tax exemption which allows those who collect the sales tax to retain the taxes collected on $100 each month. Finance Committee heads say that this will give an additional million dollars and this can be used to help the schools with. The 120 section banking bill was up for consideration in the Senate and about one-third of the bill had meen worked on whn the legislature adjourned for the week end. This bill will change up the whole banking law and under its terms the present State Bank Head will remain in office until January 1st. At that time the Governor will appoint his successor, who will remain in office up to January 1937. His salary is to be six thousand dollars a year and the banks under the new bill are to be lined up with the provisions of the new Federal bank set up. Considerable opposition appears and whether or not the bill will be passed is problematical.

Beer Bill.

The Senate Temperance Committee has finally brought out a "Beer" bill and it has been set for consideration on Wednesday of this week. ing. Its terms and provisions are radically different from the one passed by the House not long ago. I have not read it but was informed today that it proposes that those counties which want to legalize the sale of beer must call an election and vote for beer before it can be sold in the county. Under the House bill all counties would call an election and vote out from under the terms of the law. Lots of talk about the measure but I do not know what the result will be.

Culbertson school, conducted the tournament, and after all plays had been recorded it was past mid-night, when the guests departed, having enjoyed not only the well-known hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Kenney, but left with the satisfaction afforded by an evening that had been constructively spent. Culbertson bridge has swept the country, with the educa tional and entertaining factors, and to Mrs. Kenney is due the credit of having introduced and teaching so many the faculty of playing the game, as Culbertson, world-wide authority, would play it.
